You Might as Well Enjoy Yourself

You might as well enjoy yourself now on this level of the war because there is not going to be a time he [the enemy] doesn't try to stop us. We just happen to be in a time when we are in a transition.

It's okay; we are finding out enough about the other place to go there. And then we will be taking pleasure, but it will be because it is in front of us, and not the pleasure of taking pleasure by faith because you can "see" what you cannot [presently] see.
