The River of Love Is Being Ushered In

The doors of My love are wide open and a threshold has been crossed that will usher in the revival that many have “seen.” The intercessors are beginning to take their place in My love, and this has been a key.

The eyes, the eyes, the eyes, oh, the eyes of the understanding are turning to see more of Me. Religion has kept the eyes from fully turning to see Me, but religion’s ways are like discarded sackcloth on the path of where you have been on this journey into Me, and much more is being understood about Me. I have a group united who just want more of Me, and purity they seek. This pleases Me. They have not left this path of purity in their pursuit of Me.

This will be a revival that is sustained by the pure in heart whose only desire is more truth and more of Me. There has been a cry for the pure truth, and this is necessary, for this is the cry of those who just want Me.

The hour of revival is at hand, and My hand is ministering the final preparations of the heart as I continue to fashion My people’s hearts to “see” as I see.

What the world would call “the dregs” will want My love which they will see. The rich and the not so rich will want Me. The hurting and the wounded will come—looking for Me.

Those who have been impure and unclean will come—to find Me. Some who are at the brink of destruction’s gates will turn and find Me.

Those who have been unfaithful to spouses will come and get their hearts cleaned. Those who have hurt the children will turn in hopes of finding the help that is in Me. The lost and the forsaken will come to Me, and those at the end of their journey, who have all but lost hope, will come and will find Me.

Those who have lived a life of gross misconduct will find there is forgiveness in Me.

The hopeless, the hurting, the proud, and the scoundrels, and those whose hearts have plotted nothing but mischief will come, because their hope is to turn and find Me.

There will be many who will come whose hearts have been closed like a nailed shut door and of whom it is said, “Their heart is like a coffin with no door.” And they will come and their hearts will be opened by My love once more.

Rivers of love will flow. Hurts, wounds, fears, transgressions, murders and strifes and hatreds, and the vilest of sins and wounds will float away in this River of Love that I am releasing.

The journey for many will end at revival's door, as they receive the grace and forgiveness and come home and enter Heaven's doors.

So the revelation of My love is being opened to the hearts that have pressed in, and the hearts are being formed and fashioned to handle more of Me in the manner of maturity. Many are trying to grasp more of the understanding of My love and its grace, and an anointing of truth is being released that will enable this understanding to take place. The hearts are allowing the revealing of these mysteries to speed up, and it is connected to the fruit that is coming forth from the long seasons of endurance.

So rejoice, for a door has been entered and revival will soon be ushered in. There is grace for the River of Love that is being ushered in.
