The Day of the Kings Is at Hand

The Body that we have been serving, which is His bride, will no longer carry the financial burden of ministry by way of tithes, offerings, sowing and reaping. It is a new day—the day of the “kings” is at hand. They are now being assigned the authority and provision to provide.

Think it not strange if the well of offerings dries up, for the bride will no longer bear the responsibility of providing for the Kingdom. It now shall rest upon the kings.
