Love—It Won't Leave Anything Out

When a man decides to walk this walk—when you make it to one place, it prepares you to go to the next. When you make it to that place, it prepares you to go to the next.

At one point that love is developing in us, it “escapes” and does everything it's supposed to. It won't leave suffering alone. It won't leave the miracle out. It won't leave the hospitals out. It won't leave anything out.
