

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100428A – Apr 28, 2010

I Have Anointings and Things You Have Not Seen Yet

Where many have come, you will find that the instruction that I will begin to give, saith the Lord, will be dependent on what they had learned from the past and how much they changed. But I have anointings and things that you haven't seen yet, but you will. So be of good courage, and be not moved by what is obvious to you this day, but be moved by what I say. You have no idea what you have caused and have not received yet.