Things I Will Teach You Will Set You Free

For many of you experience things so that your shortcomings seem to not let you get past certain points, so you would be pulled up and stopped from time to time. But know you this, in the manifestation of the things I will teach you, as they are received, then they will set you free in many of those areas you are unsure of in your walk. So be encouraged, for I am who I said that I am, and I am Love, says the Lord.
