I Am Your Father and I Am Your Dad—You Can Hear My Voice

To those who say, “It just doesn’t work—it just won’t work for me. I’ve tried and there is no success to be had. I want to hear You, but hearing You is not to be had,” I say to you: Don’t give up so easily. I AM working in you each moment you give Me. One of the things being uprooted in you is that which tells you I am not your Father and I am not your Dad.

Fathers speak and children listen. Your soul has not believed I am this Father to you and has believed I certainly am not a “Dad.” Continue on in Me. Don’t stop. Don’t give up. Continue on in Me, and together we will stand in this land of Me being your Father, and Me being to you “Dad.”

Many have been afraid to truly embrace Me as “Father” and especially as “Dad.” But I am the Father of your spirit, and I, more than all, know how to be your “Dad.” I want to Father you. I want to cradle you in My arms and be your Dad. I want to be the One who takes you as you walk your first steps in the many facets of your inheritance that are yours to have.

I love you tenderly as your Father. I love you everlastingly as only I can. I am the Maker of your spirit, and all that you are, I understand. The troubles in your soul are not too large for Me. The struggles you can’t shake don’t move Me. We can leave them far behind us as we walk hand-in-hand. I love you when you are weak, just as I love you when you are strong. I love you when you feel like a conqueror, and I love you when your soul’s only whimper is, “I can’t.”

I say to you: Oh, yes, you can. Just stay with Me. Hold My hand. Don’t stop giving Me what I need through our fellowship to help you get past the things that tell you I don’t care and that you can’t hear Me while others can. We are on a journey, child, and all it takes is one more time of getting up from the place of “I quit” to the place of “Yes, I can.” Take My grace. Take My strength. Take My hope and take My faith and get up from that place of “I quit” and take My hand and trust Me—you can.

You can hear My voice. I am the One who is training your spirit and healing your wounds and filling the dark shadows in the soul with the glory of My light. Take My Word that I have given you, use the tools of My Spirit and continue on this path. Let My Spirit train your spirit to listen for My voice each day. Each day that you pray, each day that you listen, I dispel those things that say that you can’t and that I don’t and I won’t, and I strengthen your spirit to believe, “I can” and “He will” and “He does.”

We’re on a journey. Trust that I am your Father and that I know how to overcome the troubles in your soul that tell you that your full life in Me can’t be had. I have much for you. Take the next step. Trust Me. I am your Father. I am your Dad. Together we will make it past this place into more of who I am as your Father and into knowing Me as your Dad.
