Our Fellowship Is for Today

Our fellowship is for today. It is not for tomorrow; it is not for yesterday, it is for today, for in our fellowship today are the prerequisites for tomorrow and the healing needed for yesterday and today. For those who get caught up in the abstracts of “tomorrow,” our fellowship is for today. Tomorrow has enough worries of its own, and our fellowship today is yesterday’s tomorrow. Our fellowship is for today.

I came for the heart of man, and My desire is our fellowship each day. I know the ins and outs of your struggles, and I alone know how to reach into every detail and help you see into who you are in Me today. Your place in Me is a heavenly seat and a position of great authority and great peace. Completeness is now your place in Me. All has been finished—you are complete in Me. All you need is found in Me today, for today I will give you what you need. There is no need to think about tomorrow. Everything you are reaching for that is found in Me is located in our fellowship today. I know what you need today, and I know how to get you through today for tomorrow. The only thing you need is our fellowship today. The only thing you need is to turn your eyes from tomorrow and fix your eyes on Me. I am who you need. I am your everything.

I am Love; therefore, love is what motivates Me, for that is who I am. My Son’s life in you and your life in Me, through My Son, whose life is in Me. We are one. There is nothing lacking, for you are seated in Me. This position in Me has all the fullness you need. I am bringing you forward into seeing and understanding as I do. Your place is in Me through My Son, and all things are completed for you. So there is no worry for tomorrow; it is taken care of today. This was done in the place you would know as a “yesterday” through the finished work of My Son. What more can be done than for you to see who you are in Me through My precious Son? We are all one. We are all family. I am your Father, and I am who you need.

There is no worry for tomorrow, for I am already in your tomorrow, just as I am in your today and as I was in your yesterday. The secret is to reach into who I am and know the One who is Love. I am God. I am Love. I am your Father. I reach into every heart who gives himself to Me and I reveal who I am in ever increasing degrees. Knowing the heart of the Father is knowing Love, and in this is the knowing and understanding of My heart for you and My heart for man. This is the key to everything and is a key to the wisdom found in Me.

Too many “todays” are consumed by the worries of tomorrow, when all you need is the hand of your Father today. That which stops you from reaching into more of our life tomorrow is found in our fellowship today. Our fellowship is truly for today. I very plainly meant in My Word not to worry about tomorrow, for the concerns for tomorrow are not for you to handle today unless My instruction comes to you in a very clear way. Learn to live in today. Tomorrow is still on its way and does not need to be dealt with today, for the only thing that is here is “today.”

Tomorrow is still on its way. Live in today. Enjoy who we are today. Enjoy My Fatherhood and your place in My love today, for in this is all you need to handle the things yet to come your way. Our fellowship is truly for today. Tomorrow is still on its way.

Today has its own beauty; today has its own plans; today has today's healing, and today has everything you need from My hand. I know where you are in Me today, and I am the One who reaches in to bring you into more of My love and more of who I am. I am Father, and your place in this is the key to receiving even more from My hand. I want you to walk in My love and understand who we are together and to walk in the fullness of this plan. Today's fellowship is the most important part in knowing who you are and who I am. I am Father, and My Fatherhood was My master plan.

So don't be concerned about tomorrow—it is still on its way. Walk in today, drink from our fellowship and be filled with more of who I am. Today's fellowship is tomorrow's plan. Drink deeply today from who I am.
