

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100207B – Feb 7, 2010

A Firestorm of My Life Spread Through You

Time is running out. This is why many know the importance of pressing into Me. The runners are moving into places in Me where I release things, and it will be so pleasing to Me. In these places in Me, I will begin to do things that the world has not seen.

For many, the press is a push because the enemy is using what he can to make it hard to advance into Me; however, runners do not stop and runners do not let up in their daily training with Me. It is a time of advance. It is a time of a push forward into Me. What I have been preparing in each one who is running into Me is near to being released.

The armor you are dressed in is to be used in prayer for all saints. Pay attention at this hour. Uphold the family in prayer so that those who are susceptible to being trapped would be able to be free. It is crucial, for the things that lie ahead will require the peace found in Me. Run as if a torch were in your hand which I am keeping lit. I am causing the flames to burn brighter and stronger in this time with Me. Run as if a torch were in your hand being continually lit by your fellowship with Me. See the image of "igniters." This is being poured into those who are running into more and more of Me. Use what I pour into you and pray, upholding the strong and the weak alike so that all might see more of Me.

As the igniting flames burn stronger, where you are, I will be able to move. Those who carry the flame of My love and My power are those who walk in the nature of My love and the soundness of My truth. And because the fullness of My image is being built in you, I will be able to come where I send you and ignite the flames of revival through My love and truth in you.

Because you are there, I am there in soundness of truth, in love and in power. I will move and fires will be started by each one I am allowed to move through in My love and truth. Let the fire of truth and love be as a firestorm of My life spread through you to others. Those who are My runners are the torchbearers of My love and truth, and the power of My Spirit accompanies you.