

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100214B – Feb 14, 2010
Where I Am There Is Always a Blessing

For I brought several of you up to certain doors at times, and My intention was that your blessing lies on the other side of the door. But the enemy, oh, he does what he does and he challenges and raises a big fuss—just at entry level—to see if he can get you to abort.

And do you know that My love will give you eyes to see through that some of you have not seen through yet? And when you can see through My eyes, you will know things that I know and go places that I am, and where I am, there is always a blessing, saith the Lord.

So open your eyes and fellowship with Me.