

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100227A – Feb 27, 2010
When You See Me, You See You in Me

The enemy is greatly intensifying his efforts to widen the divide between the doers of My Word and the hearers only of My Word, for he knows his time is shortening even more. He is also intent on stopping everyone that he can, for he knows the numbers he will lose from his kingdom to Mine through the revival I am preparing in you.

It is imperative that every key I lead you into and every key you have learned is used. My Word to you and the joy it brings is your strength. Magnify My Word and exalt Me in every circumstance, at all times. Take the words I speak to you and worship Me. My Word is truth. Take My Word you assimilate and worship Me. As you take the words I speak, and as you take the Word I point you to and worship Me, I will open the eyes of your understanding to see Me. And when you see Me, you see you in Me.

Am I pleased? Am I expectant? I am more than pleased. I am more than expectant. You do not have the understanding yet for Me to express the fullness of My delight in you.

Take up My keys—there is grace and there is strength for each of you. The pressure from the enemy will not stop, but you will move past the pressures he is using against each of you as you surge forward in the pursuit of Me. And once again, the enemy will see that greater is My Spirit in you, in all things.

My Word is your bread and your meat. My life is the life you drink. Eat and drink of My love and My truth and be refreshed continually in My Presence as I restore you. As you do these things, you will see the shortening of the time of the pressures by the enemy against you.

Rejoice, My beloved. I am all you need. I am your Victory.