

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100227C – Feb 27, 2010
The Cry of a Surrendered Heart

“My master goal is to know You. I want Your best.”

This is the cry of a heart surrendered to Me. Beyond your desires, beyond your dreams, beyond your hopes and aspirations, this one desire is the voice of a heart surrendered to Me.

Beyond the arguments in your soul that can sound off in their reasonings to you, beyond even the intense desires that overtake you and that you try to find My mind for, beyond all things—the cry of the surrendered heart, no matter the cost to you is, “My master goal is to know You—most intimately. I want Your best to help Me achieve that.”

This is the place from which you release Me to freely move for you. Nurture, care for and protect this heart of surrender that is My life in you.