Take Heed to My Spirit

I am looking for the hearts that are willing to put off the old man for the new, for in the days ahead, there is much to do. We are closer than you think to the works I have been preparing in you.

The race is won by the swiftest, and the race is not finished. Take the time with My Spirit and learn, and take heed to all He tells you. You are entering into a new time of learning and seeing more clearly about My life in you. Take heed to My Spirit within you and all that He says to you.

Many who have not heard will be hearing as they continue to move forward in truth. Praying much in the Spirit is times of personal tutoring by the Spirit of Truth. He will move you past what has stopped you from believing I speak to you, and taking time to worship Me will open places in you I have not been given access to, and I can come to restore you.

Take heed to My Spirit, for He has many things to say to you. I look for hearts that are open to take heed to what I have to say.
