You Will Be Extremely Glad You Endured

Think it not strange concerning these strange things that come to try you, for you know how many have made it to this place and then failed. When you see what I have for you, you will be extremely glad that you prevailed. You will be extremely glad that you endured, not only here, but you will be glad in eternities.

So stay strong and know that no afflictions were accomplished in you that were not accomplished in your brethren who are in the world. And all who did anything for Me had to survive what the enemy uses to stop. So be encouraged; be strong.

He says: For His plan is still entirely alive and moving forward.
