This Is Meekness

These temporary trials are nothing compared with the glory that will be revealed. When you are free from the trials the enemy throws at you, I mean you are free in your heart, for the heart is the battlefield for which we contend, and this is the fount where it all pours out. The heart and the spirit are very close, and this is the first place My glory manifests on the path from your spirit, which is My spirit [My new nature] in you, to the world. You are free. You are free, no matter the temptations, no matter the trials. Trust in My freedom, which is your freedom, for you are with Me.

These trials are really birth pangs and you do well to see them as such—remind yourselves. Be drunk on My truth, as Paul said, and you will see your freedom, for it is really there. My freedom, which is your freedom, is far more real than anything you can dream up. It is far more real than anything you can ever see with your eyes.

You must learn to see just as a man must learn what the details mean, over and in and throughout the big picture. A business man must learn to see the particular opportunities [business deals] in the specific details available, and you must learn to see My truth beyond all circumstances. I am your circumstances, for you are seated with Me.

I am your hope. I am your love—the love of your life, for I am your life. You are seated with Me and I am all you need. Your needs are met, so don't concern yourself with them. Don't concern yourself with anything besides your instructions, for they are life and health to you. That is what they mean to your situation and that is what they mean to your life. Let them hold that meaning to you. Rejoice!!!

I am all you need, and you will find Me in My Word, which in this case is My instructions for you. The temporary needs are caught up in the working of My big picture. Don't be afraid. I will make a way for you. I am your strength. I am your might, so relax in My instructions and do no more and no less. This is meekness.
