My Love As Your Father

For I like to take My thoughts and make them yours. And when I have an avenue to do so, I am quick to move that I might communicate information to you that you will know what I am and who I am, and I know who you are and what you are. For it is My desire for this kind of fellowship with you.

Consider the fowls of the air; would you give your child a serpent? Would you? As your Father, there are some truths that have barely been unlocked, few times and far between, that have to do with My love as your Father and what I have freely [made available] for you.
