

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT100328A – Mar 28, 2010
My Grace Is Fueled by My Love

For in the things I have done in the past that many times their dependency was too much on themselves and on their works, therefore, what I was attempting to do was brought to an end because of their limitations, not Mine.

But when you find out the fullness of My grace, you will see that it is fueled by My love. And you walk down this road and you do not let yourself get into the works, but know who you are and why—that you are who you say that I am. There is not only strength, but there is grace and there is love, and you will finish your course, saith the Lord.