You Can Decide—It Is Up to You

For can any more be said? For what did I say when I promised you the Teacher? Did not I say He would guide you into all truth? Why would I send you the Teacher and not have a way for you to present yourself to Him? Why would I make these promises to you if I did not open a door for you to step through? For are not these things up to you? For I have made it so that you can decide how much you want, how far you want to go, because this is all by your choice. I lay My call, I separate you according to how I will, and it is up to you how much of yourself that you want to give back to Me. However, I have provided a road that you can walk down, deliberately, putting one foot in front of the other, out of everything I said you are free from and into everything I said you could be, in the fulfillment of it.
