

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT110220A – Feb 20, 2011
My Will Is All the Things I Have for You

I speak to you of My willingness to take you by the hand and to walk with you, whether you want to walk down the path or out [outside the narrow path]. It is My will—it is My will [for you] to always walk up [upward in Me]. It is My will to always bring you forward to more—to all the things I have for you. And at times, when you understand these things, then faith comes to your heart and you give Me something that I need so that I can take My grace and move your strength forward for a season.
