A Campaign of Fear

A campaign of fear like never before is beginning against My Body. The author of fear is taking aim with some of his most convincing circumstances yet. Too many are not prepared for what he is about to unleash.

I am doing everything I can to alert those who will listen and pray to what is about to take place. I am not doing this to strike fear into anyone. No, I am doing this to make My Body aware of the sudden jolt they may experience as they continue on, destroying the enemy's kingdom. It is My desire that every one of My children walk through this coming attack unscathed. Some will; others will not.

What will make the difference? The difference will be those who are controlled by the outside circumstances versus those who are rooted and grounded in My Word. The circumstances will look ugly—there is absolutely no denying that. But I never said that you should be governed by outside circumstances.

Some of you right now are saying to yourself, "I am not ready for this." Others are saying, "I am already afraid with what I am facing today. What am I to do?"

What I have revealed to you in message after message is the process that is essential for realizing your own personal victory. I am forewarning you: Take advantage and do what I have taught you to do. You still have time, but don't procrastinate. Do what I have taught you to edify your new man and put to death what remains of your old man. Don't leave behind anything that the enemy can use against you.

The good news for you is this: You know what to do, unlike so many who refuse to listen; you listen.

Many who care so much about this life have almost forgotten that this is only the beginning. They play spiritual games thinking I am impressed when actually what they are doing means little of anything to Me.

Fortunately, your hunger has served you well. Your hunger would not allow you to spin your wheels with religious games. Your hunger has led you to a fountain head of revelation where your spirit could soar. Continue to cultivate your hunger and never become satisfied. I will utilize everything you give Me to keep you on this path of transformation, because it is, in fact, the very thing that will sustain you through everything the enemy will send your way. Do not fear.

The message [taught at] this place is My message. It is not unique to this Body. I have found others who, too, have hungered after truth as you have, and I have led them to the few fountain heads I have where revelation flows freely, unhindered, and without price. Appreciate what I have created here because man did not do this; I did this. I did this through the hunger of those who have gone before you. Do not despise what I have done here.
