Faithfully Pursue Me in the Midst of Changes

I am about to move in a big way with many ramifications. Trust Me when I say it will in no way be small in any of its dimensions. My perfect will is about to begin, in initial stages, to manifest in and around those who have faithfully pursued Me in fellowship and obedience. The instructions given will primarily be concerned with what to do in preparation for the manifestations which are soon going to take place.

With joyful expectation, look forward with hope for what I have promised. As it unfolds, so will your individual level of understanding about what is taking place—almost hand in hand. This will require your ear to be attuned to the voice of My Spirit at all times. Be listening for Me to speak at all times.

Your stance at all times should be one of joyful expectancy in order to not be caught off guard. Watch and wait for Me to move at all times, day and night. Have the mindset of a trained soldier waiting for the command to act. At that point, instructions will be given individually, according to the call, purpose, destiny and office, along with the level of understanding of each individual. They [the instructions] will precisely fit the person who receives them in conjunction with the circumstances and types of manifestations taking place in their lives.

In the meantime, faithfully pursue Me in all the ways you have done previously. Your instructions will not change in that regard. We will continue to fellowship together as we always have in the midst of all the changes taking place in and around you.

Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say, rejoice! I am the faithful God who delights to bestow My blessings on My faithful ones, knowing more and more people will be exposed to My love as a result of our faithfulness to each other!
