

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT121223D – Dec 23, 2012

The Door Is Open to Receive Revelation Knowledge

In the futures to come, you will continue to be equipped beyond what you are now. You will be equipped as My Spirit is poured out, for I will teach you along the way what it is in you—My Presence; how you come before Me in the time you spend [in My Presence]; how these things will change your foundation and cause you to grow from those roots most never reap from. But I have plans—plans for you—for the door is open. For the necessary things have been administered to receive revelation knowledge from Myself.

Do you think I will hold back, says the Lord? For receiving on this level of My Spirit—Tulsa is in revival; Jesus is Lord in Tulsa—there are things that need to be learned and need to be walked in. For throughout history, these places have been attained, then taken back away. And the place the devil trembled most over was the place where My love was able to live for a period of time and amplify, then he would have to track down the remnants of them and destroy them one by one. But that won't be so with this revival. You will see different things that will begin to happen, for the media has changed. Knowledge has increased with travel—take advantage of it, for you can spread enough truth [just] as the devil can spread disaster.

So be strong and move forward. You are in a place to win.