Faith Where All Things Are Possible

Editor's Note: The following was spoken at the end of the service.

For you who stayed, these things that I exhorted through the main service were things that would lift you up and put you more in tune with Me so that I might be able to do more for you. For when you see Me through My love and I see you through My love, you will see—you will see—I can lift you up where there is a faith where all things are possible to him that believeth.
