My Love Is Yours

One of the main things on My agenda this week is to solidify in you how much I treasure you as My child. Every moment you seek My Presence, My heart bursts with absolute joy and delight. Truly, truly do I delight in you. My love is yours. Everything I do to and for you is intended to bring you further into Me to the place where you are able to receive all that I have done for you. Never, ever will you have to earn My love. It is yours—My love is yours.

Do you know that every time I look at you, My heart swells with the great love I have for you? I desire once and for all that you know that you know you will never, ever have to do anything to make Me happy enough with you to have Me fulfill your needs. It is My great pleasure for you to come and ask Me for things, for then I can come up with ways to bring your desires to pass, and there will be no doubt in you that it was from Me.

When you make mistakes, let Me walk you out of them. Let Me be your Father. I don't want you to allow shame to drive you to fix them on your own before you restore fellowship with Me. I desire to eradicate all traces of shame that you allow your soul to hear and receive from the enemy.

It is absolutely vital for you to renew your mind to who you are in Me. Allow Me to help you make this a priority. I am so excited knowing where I get to take you in Me this coming year. You are My delight and treasure.

As you continue to grow and establish yourself in Me, you will allow Me to bring you to the place where I can launch you like a missile into areas where I have longed to explode all of who I am over them, and the goodness of all that I am cannot any longer be quenched by the enemy. For you to submit and allow yourself to be brought to this place brings Me great, great joy.
