

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT130428A – Apr 28, 2013

You Will See Me Move

Sometimes you feel the excitement of something that is about to happen, and you don't always know what it is, but you feel the excitement of it. I would say this to you: This time, it is more than you have seen in the past.

I am not doing a new thing to Me, but some of it will be a new thing to you. You will see Me move in ways that you will say, "This is amazing," much less [not to mention] people who are not used to it. And this will begin a talking in the town.

Be strong. It won't always just be pouring out of pure love—you will be challenged. So be strong and know that many, many, many souls will be saved in the outcome.