Don't Back Up—Keep Coming Forward

For this generation that I am turning loose on the world, things are getting close to His coming. So there will be a generation which will move forward and go out to declare Me and the signs and wonders that you have read so much about in these last days.

So be strong, because you are on the path that brings those things to you. Don't back up. Keep coming forward, knowing that you cannot harbor My prayer in your heart and release it and not be affected yourself when your time comes.
