

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT130501C – May 1, 2013

What I Have for You—You Will Appreciate

For it is never the greater number that come, but it is a number who listens to Me beyond what the others want to hang on to. But when I pour out everything I am and they begin to see, they will come running and their reward will be great.

But what I have for you, you will appreciate, for you who stayed the same—no matter what has come and what has gone, and you have stayed on My rock, My foundation, and have been strong—you do not know what I have prepared for you.

Oh, you know what He is saying? Do you see any empty chairs? No—somewhere in there, you don't know how. Well, you don't know about rewards. You don't know about the long times when everybody got weary and peeled off on you [quit] and you didn't. You survived another one [battle] and stayed in there and brought another one [battle] and kept going and going. Do you have any idea the reward for—see, it isn't the glory kind of reward: Yea, you are out on the front and five people got up that were dead and thousands of people are talking and wanting to worship you and all of that. It's not that kind. It's the kind that stayed wired together when everything looked like it was heading for hell, but it could not make you stop. It made it look like you lost everything. Sometimes some loved ones even when it was a full-scale war. Nothing worked; everything vanished—you are left standing on a rock, and you won't quit. You won't quit.