

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT130526D – May 26, 2013
Know That Something Is Coming

As it was in those early days, so shall it be again, for many, many who were anointed by Me spread through the cities preaching, teaching, and healing all who were sick. For when these things awaken—rise again—you will see that people who are being born again and brought to Me under those circumstances will pick up and run with it.

For if you are born again in other kinds of circumstances, you will tend to be educated by the doctrine that is at hand. But know this: All I have is yours from the beginning, for in those times when they were born again into revival, they would add themselves to the revival and continue it in My Name.

So know that something is coming and you are going to see things you have not seen before. You will be grateful and you will worship Me, says the Lord, that you were born in this generation.