

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

PT131010C - Oct 10, 2013

Your Decision—How Much You Want to Serve Me

For there are many of you who believe that you have a calling with Me, and some of you are not sure. But I can say this to you: You cannot settle yourself into praying in the language that I have given to you and remain in the same place and not find out what I have for you.

If you will take the time with Me, I will take the time with you. You will see, you can walk into everything I have for you and out of everything I freed you from.

And you know what is so good about this? It can be your choice and your decision how much you want to serve Me, how much you want to walk after the Spirit and be led and conquer those things I set you up against.