Come Up Higher—Look to That Which Is Mine

For I am bestowing honor on this place, calling you into the deeper things that even more of your life may be consumed on the altar of His will. I am calling you even deeper and farther, beyond those realms where the flesh will walk with you, beyond that realm—those realms where your flesh will walk with you. I am honoring this place, and I am drawing you into that realm where the Son's voice is heard clear and where the power flows free and where Heaven is brought to earth and My Father's will is manifested.

Be encouraged, little flock: It is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom. And this very day, I say to those who have ears to hear: Come up higher. Come up higher. Look not to the world. Look not to your flesh. Look not to that which is yours but look to that which is Mine, for all that the Father has given Me, My Spirit will show it unto you, and together, we will harvest My Father's fields in these days, says the Lord.
