

The Lord's Present-Day Speaking

Be a Well of My Purpose

Don't hang your head. Don't despair, for you've heard so many times, don't grow "weary in well doing," for in due season, you will reap. Don't let familiarity to the truth cause it to grow cold, for I am ever drawing you nearer and nearer to My heart. For the living reality that exists in My Presence exists within your heart, and as you draw near to Me, I am drawing near to you, and you are renewed to My way of thinking, that My reality becomes your reality, that you exist with Me first and foremost. But I have to have all of you, for every weakness and every flaw comes by inroad of the flesh. And to the degree that the flesh has you, I do not.

So draw near to Me with renewed fervency and see the new dawn on the horizon. For I have lived in a present state of awaiting for your arrival, for this reality I always existed in: that all things are possible. But it is through coming near to Me that your mind and your soul are retrained from the task master of the flesh and the world, for I have renewed your spirit. I have rebirthed you. From the inside out, be a well of My purpose. Be a well of My peace turning into a river. Be a river of My will flowing out and feeding, touching a thirsty and starving world, for I have no other hands and feet but yours.

For I have long waited for you. Don't stop now, let the truth take fresh flight in your heart, and remember your early days where anticipation and an excitement was what you woke up to. For you have not seen a tenth, a tenth of what you will see, for many things will change to those who will not wait, but press forward, press forward.

Do not say, "I have given it all." Press forward, for surrender comes by degree, and by the degree of surrender you attain to, more is revealed. Let the fire of your hunger burn through those things, those requests I make of you and let nothing stand in your way. For there is a new day coming, and it is here. But that new day waits for a living reality, a hope that cannot be put out to be made solid in your heart, and with one accord, where you and I are on the same page, [we] will go forward and will take this world, will take this city, will take your neighbors. The harvest is there.

Galatians 6:9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

Luke 1:37 For with God nothing shall be impossible.

Romans 12:1,2 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. 2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.
