Exercise Your Authority

I desired to reach out with My hand in this area, but because I was limited, I could not. But, oh, My children, for he who carries the good news, if you will employ these principles, you cannot be stopped.

Stand steadfast in the liberty wherewith I have made you free and enforce the power of the Holy Spirit within you that I can release it through you, says the Spirit of Grace. For many things I do desire to do, many things I desire to have take place. Stand, contend, little ones. Exercise your authority and come before Me with boldness and supplication wielding the two-edged sword.

In great authority, I will set you forth and unbelief you will divorce. For great things your eyes shall see. Release My glory, release Me, and I will move mightily, says the Spirit of Grace, and there will be no buildings in Tulsa that will not inhabit My grace.

For those who will hear, says the Spirit of Grace, I am preparing their hearts. For an army I need, you see, that will dress themselves in the armor and take the aggressive weapon of the sword. I need those who will speak My thoughts, who will say My Words. I need those who will go to the forefront of the battle and wield the two-edged sword with all supplication and prayer in the spirit, you see. For I will equip you and send you into the enemy's camp, and you will take the aggressive weapon of the sword and drive him back, and revival will come.

I desire to take your authority and speak My Words through you and wield that two-edged sword. I desire you to build that intimate relationship with Me in your spirit, says the Spirit of Grace, and possession of the promise land will replace your cares. For when you rise up and are strong in My Spirit and listen for the objectives that I will place in there, you see, everything that is dead, every dried limb will be purged along the wayside as you hold to your objective, which is to enter in all the way into Me.

So stand fast in what is working in your spirit, for I am gathering people together who will strengthen each other, you see, for they will carry each other along the path. When one gets weak, the rest will pick him up and they will march along, for truly great things are coming.

Great things are coming, says the Spirit of Grace. It is a fine hour, so shake yourself. Anoint yourself with oil and wash your face and prepare for the battle.

The apostle will so journey in that day into Me, and he will lay hold of truths that have been perverted. He will bring them back to you, you see. As he instigates [implements] the fullness of the covenant of this last hour, the things that are not true will be purged and will result in power.

Already I am preparing and separating a people to Me who are not strangers to afflictions nor tests and trials, you see. They have offered their bodies as a living sacrifice. There is nothing that the god of this world can do, for I will have a people, says the Spirit of Grace, before the move of My Spirit is through.

You will hear cries of agony and screams throughout the land even as you heard it begin as I bring judgment for sin. I am purging a fine line, and I will tune people up in My Spirit. No longer will they give up in the heat of the battle, nor be drawn to the left or to the right by the flesh.

I am preparing these people to be strong for battle, for I have recruited them into boot camp with Me. I will take them through a season of intensity and when I loose them, you will know the old from the new. For they will come on the scene in My power and I will mark an era that will bring the end.

So I invite you, My little children. Come on in, for there is no obstacle too great that the Holy Spirit cannot lead and purge you through. My hand is on your life for victory. Trust Me. When I am done, I will see you through. I desire to make more than people who will walk before Me, but I desire to make conquerors who I can work through those victories.

So draw yourself aside and think it not strange the fiery trials sent to try you. Know this: I will have a people who flow in My Spirit as gold. I will have a spirit in these people by which the world will know that they are of Me, because I will purge them to My peace and My love, and they will have the answer that the world looks for.

There is no obstacle so great that I will not give you My Holy Spirit—He will empower you to storm the gate. No, not disease, no, not poverty—no, none of these things will be able to stop you, for I will show you what true gifts are as they work in your heart to fulfill your place in the Body. I will bring you through, for I have delivered to every one of you the grace to be what you are and the measure of faith to build you up to fulfill what I have separated you to do.

No, no, there is no excuse. Only your flesh will stop you. Have I not given you power over all the power of the enemy that he by no means can hurt you? Be bold! Stand forth! Raise your objectives and pursue the mortification of your flesh by the power of My Holy Spirit. I will lead you in to drink deep of the rivers of living water, and you will thirst no more.
