

You Are Not Your Struggles

God does not look at how far you come in your flesh as to how good of a son or daughter you are. He does not look at how much you have overcome as if you are a daughter today and not tomorrow. He only looks at it as what it is—it is your flesh—and He expects you to overcome it every day.

He expects you to take it to the cross every day. But knowing that you were going to struggle with your flesh, He could not wait another moment—He did not want to wait until you were perfected in your flesh. He did not want to wait until Heaven. He made a way for you to fellowship with Him as if you were perfect—right now—today. And the only act it takes is a moment of humility to repent and thank Him for the blood of Jesus, that it washes you today of that sin. And that one act of humility gives you the ability to run in to Him, to fellowship with Him, to enjoy Him like you were in Heaven with Him.

Let's not waste another day, another moment of acting like we are not in Him when we already are. You are not your struggles. No matter how big or small they are—you are not your struggles. You are His child.

My Generals Will Soon Be Seen

My generals for this hour are those trained with the schooling that comes by My Spirit. Their schooling is on the paths of My Word and My counsel and learning to obey Me, no matter the command. My generals, whom I will bring forward in this hour, have learned to not break rank and to work well with their fellow officers. They do not lord it over any. They do not see themselves as mighty, but weak, and in weakness they are strong in Me.

My generals walk through many levels of training with My Spirit and allow the purging of many things. They humble themselves under My mighty hand and sit and listen at My feet. Those who are My generals are schooled in fellowship with Me; they ARE the ones who hear My counsel, who sit and listen at My feet.

My generals do not consider rank; they only consider one thing—My heart—and My heart alone do they seek. My generals receive their sustenance from Me in all things and take their instructions from Me. Whatever the cost, their satisfaction is to walk as one with Me.

The Church, as a whole, does not know My generals and those who are reporting to Me. They do not know the ways of My Spirit, nor do they come and take their counsel from Me. Many are those in My training, but few are they in the comparison of things. One general in ten thousand is nowhere to be seen. If you search the cities of the nations, most have no generals trained by Me.

The hour is approaching soon when My generals will begin to be seen. The doctrines of men will attempt to refute the wisdom which My generals have received from Me, but My signs and wonders, such as healings of longstanding things, will bring many men to their knees. Hearts will turn and hearts will cry to see more of Me.

It won't be a welcoming committee which will greet My generals as they go forth by command from Me. Widespread will be the derision by those who have made themselves "generals" and have not been made so by Me. Many in My Church will not recognize My generals at first and will side with those who have been esteemed in the flesh. The soft answer from My "mouths" and the quiet of their lips will in time quiet the voices who speak against that which I bring. The arm of My power will overturn the mouths which rise continually against Me, and some of those same voices will turn and will begin to speak for Me.

It is the hour when My thunder and My quiet are about to be released—the thunder of My Spirit's power and the quiet of those who serve Me. My generals hear My Spirit calling, and they are entering into more of Me. Marked will be the difference of these generals who abide in the rooms of My counsel and live in fellowship with Me. Holiness abounds in the generals who will be sent forth in this hour by My hand. I have generals who are in hiding and in training, and I will soon call them forth, for the world to see and hear from Me. The fields are white for the harvest and soon will be the release of these things.

My Generals Have Come Forth in Me.

My generals have come forth in Me. This is victory. Those who would not call themselves generals, I am calling generals. They are on hand to lead My people into the victory of the fullness of who they are in Me. They are My generals and are appointed to lead as they have been led by My Spirit—as a unit undivided, a unit one with Me.

It is My declaration: My generals have come forth in Me. They have taken this place through fellowship, laying their reputations at My feet. These I am calling do not look at themselves as generals, but view themselves in humility, but I am calling them generals, for they have arrived at a place in Me of tender, teachable hearts and humility, and they have the strength they need.

I say you are My general. That is what I decree. Your equipping is our fellowship, holding fast to Me, hearing from My Spirit, sitting at My feet. Generals have their ranking, but your rank is in Me. Your strength is in your unity, staying as one in Me.

I am calling My generals, those who are united in Me, I am calling you to lead into fires and great victories, to stand together united, one with Me—walking in My victory, hearing My decrees.

Stand united in battle. Stand united in victory. This next part of the journey is crucial indeed, but the victory is established, just walk it out in Me. Hold each other's hands up, established in My decrees. Stand united in My victory. Walk it out in peace, and, soon, you will see that revival was not as hard as it seemed.

I am pleased this day at the unity and how you have endured in Me. It is part of your great victory—unity with each other in your unity in Me. You are banded together in My Spirit to lead the army I am equipping into the fires and furnace, emerging as an army—holy in Me.

Do not say you are not My general, or “How can it be?” Promotion is by My choosing and this is the next step in our intimacy. Many miss it by thinking promotion becomes a time of “busy,” but in My thinking, promotion means more of you and Me.

Your leadership requires our fellowship. There will never be a time that our fellowship is not everything. My choosing you is not a matter of perfection in your walk with Me. I know each of you according to your heart, your attentiveness, and your maturity, and your schooling of fellowship with My Spirit has been your preparation, so I am free to decree: Generals you are in Me.

A major factor in My choice is the unity. I have a band of generals who have chosen to walk together with Me. It has been decision after decision into more and more of Me. Never underestimate the unity. It is the way of love and wisdom and peace.

I choose with great pleasure, for I find you faithful in your desire for Me. I have found yearnings as well as surrender to My call of, “Come deeper into Me.” I have found willingness in each of you as you have continually yielded to Me. I can take one who is yielded and willing, and through obedience, we will do great things.

I know that you see your failings, but in My choosing you, I did not consider these things. I looked at your desires and your yieldedness, and you must know, I am pleased. Your obedience is being fashioned in the secret place with Me as I bring you deeper into truth and freedom. First, in My mind, is your calling and that calling is fellowship with Me.

Your charge is one of simplicity: Be strong in our fellowship—keep making choices for more of Me. In our fellowship through My Spirit is everything you will need. I am leading you as I lead My army into the reality of life in Me. Faith and love and authority will all be established in great peace.

We are going through the land of revival—the land of who you are in Me, and I have given you a people to lead. As you are walking out your leadership, I will give you what you need, and be assured: Revival flames are burning in you even as I speak. Stoke the fires of revival through our fellowship—My Spirit has everything you need. Nothing will ever matter more than the time you give to Me. You are Mine, and You are My generals, and the heart of the matter has always been fellowship through My Spirit with Me. Know that I am most pleased.

Generals and Casualties

While reading the prophecies concerning generals in 2014 I had a mini vision of battle like occurred in Normandy on D-Day or perhaps the action in Korea during the Korean War. The troops were advancing against withering enemy fire and there were many casualties on both sides. Yet the battles were successful and the generals in charge received great honor for being victorious. It seemed the Spirit was saying in order to be a successful general you must be willing to accept casualties. Current research states that 4,413 Allied troops died on D-Day, the first day of the European invasion. History regards that invasion as one of the most successful operations in the history of warfare. Generals must bear the responsibility of casualties even in successful campaigns.
