

You Are Rewarded for My Works

Speak not of those things that you have done for Me or shall do for Me or are doing for Me, for they are worthless, they are works, and they are not considered. Speak of and rejoice in those things that I do for you, that I have done for you, that I shall do for you, and that I do through you, for these are the works of God! Those things that I do through you, these are the works that shall be accounted to you as reward on that day. Each day that passes, your mind grasps hold a little more of the revelation of I in you. I am your only hope of glory. It is I, the living Christ in you, working through you, speaking through you, delivering through you. This is the work of God, that you believe that I am in you and thereby believing in Him Who sent Me. Christ in you is your hope of glory. Trust Me and not yourself. Speak of My work in you and not your own. Glorify and sing praises unto the Lord, rejoicing in those things which I am doing through you, for they are the works of God. The grace of the Father is He reckons these works to your account. He reckons My work in you to your account!

Become not discouraged at seeming failures for you do not as yet understand as I understand. These seeming failures have been going on ever since the fall of man. If you become discouraged from pressing toward the mark, that is the only thing that will prevent you from seeing the victory over apparent, seeming failures. It is not My will that the enemy ever succeed in any way in any area of my children's lives. It is only by the revelation of Me in them, the release of power from the Anointed One within, that causes these destructions to cease. Be not discouraged, be not discouraged by what you see and be not discouraged at what people say. Mourn with them, for they hurt, but do not divert from the path of the quest to know Me. For in Me and in the revelation of Me is your victory. That victory can be transmitted by the anointing. It can flow literally. I have few vessels where My victory can now flow. I have few, but if you will stay on this path of quest, if you will seek to know Me Myself and who I am in you, victory, My victory can literally flow from you to them. And they can learn, and they can grow up, and they can follow. As Paul said, "Follow me as I follow the Lord." As you follow Me, they will follow you, and they will grow up and they will walk in victory. Then that victory can be transmitted to others. Be not discouraged, son, be not discouraged. Let every seeming defeat cause you to press even harder toward the mark. Set your face like flint as I set Mine toward Jerusalem. Set your face like flint toward knowing Me. To know Me is your victory.

Paul accounted it a foolish thing to speak of those things that I wrought through him as being works of his own. Therefore, he only related to those that were carnal those things they could understand in the carnal realm. He spoke only of his infirmities, for he would not speak of My work as his own. And even the speaking of his infirmities he counted as foolish. But to relate information to those who were carnal, he spoke in a manner they could understand, for they were being tormented and deceived by false apostles. Count it a foolish thing to ever speak of My work through you as being your own. It is My work. It is Me working through you, yet the reward will be yours, sayeth the Lord.

Receive this as truth, for your mind has trouble understanding. You should know that the Father will fill your flesh completely with Himself. He who touches flesh must work through Me, by the spirit, through flesh to flesh. For the Father to touch flesh directly would consume the flesh. Therefore, He works through Me, by the spirit, through you, through flesh, to flesh. The Father desires to touch. The Father desires to do the works. Continue on this path, My son, for this is the avenue, this is the walk that the Father has chosen for you.
